African bees attack church goers

The Sunday service at the Catholic Church was canceled, because African bees attacked the faithful. Two professional pest control workers from Managua were brought in to smoke them out.

Team Butler

USA vs. Nicaragua

Butler won the first Volley ball game against Nicaraguan National Team on May 16th. 8 girls between 19 and 22 from the Butler University in Indianapolis, Indiana defeated the Nicaraguan team in 4 games. This event was organized by Tim Kelly, his company Bring-It-Promotions and his girlfriend Jo Fielder. On May 17th after a hefty lunch at Bambu Beach they went to play in the Centro Civico.

Nicaraguan National Volleyball Team

Stephanie, a science student, says is a great experience to be in San Juan del Sur. "We learned a lot about ourselves, makes us appreciate everything we have. It is a humbling experience". Before coming to San Juan, the team and their 5 "chaperons" traveled to Ometepe. The Butler team hung out with poor kids at Camp Alergia. They also climbed Volcano Maderas, describing it as "long, hard, challenging and the best experience we never want to have again. Cloy, a psychology student said, "The coolest part was sitting in the crater". Asked if they like Nicaragua, the team answered: "We love it, it is great!" Cloy added: "Life can still be great and simple at the same time!"

Lisa Der explains Chad Unser the new garbage collecting system

Garbage collection

Lisa Der introduces new garbage collecting system to La Chocolata and Marsella road. "The town started collecting 70 Cordobas each time we dropped of garbage at the dump. Most residence of the area simply can't afford that, so they took they trash to San Juan del Sur or just dumped it on the side of the road. Jake (Lisa's boyfriend) and I went to talk to all the residence in the area. We collected 26 signatures. I met the head 'garbage-man' of the Mayor's office and they agreed to collect our garbargue twice a week, for a monthly fee of 100 Cordobas." Congratulations! Good job Lisa.

Fire

Eric Gabriel houses almost burned down, because of the lack of care of some workers cleaning land on the bottom of the "water tank hill". The workers set fire to scrubs. Within minutes the strong wind pushed the flames to the top of the hill. The local fire truck did not make it up the steep road. The firefighters had to hike up the hill to put out the flames. Corey, Jonathan, Cesar (Eric's caretaker) and Eric fought the flames with two garden hoses and a bucket. The main damage was done to the plants. Many thanks go to Dan & Cesar, Jim "The Vet", Jonathan and his friends; Corey and Gaylan for helping out.

Stuck I

Nick, a visitor from New Zealand, got stuck in a trench dug by the 'taxistas" on strike at the illegal 'beach crossing'. He claimed to not have seen it and drove right into it. First all the helpers, guests from Republika, tried to lift the truck out. The spectators from Bambu Beach Club organized a Pick-up to pull him out. It took the experienced driver "Majagual-Paul" 10 seconds to get Nick's truck out of the trench.

Stuck II

Two days later, Bambu patrons had another stuck story to watch, as a boat on a trailer and two trucks also got stuck. The boat owner from Managua tried to pull it out of the storage facility at Hotel Anamar. The white Toyota Hilux and the boat were pulled out by a Toyota Landcruiser which got stuck too. After a lot of rearranging cars, the boat was pulled out.

Poison pigs cooked in the market

It might be a good idea to go kosher for the time being. National Health services, MINSA, are checking all the businesses selling pork meat, after six people were treated in the local Centro de Salud for food poisoning. According to one official, all six people bought Vigarón at the same food stand.

Rumor mill

Rumors 1

The future owner (who wants his identity kept secret) of San Juan's first Flight Park says his project is moving ahead. The deal on the property is signed.

Rumors 2

After much speculation on who will be the new operator of the "Disco" (former Otangani) at the river, it is revealed. Mauricio of El Timon, who also is a candidate for the upcoming mayors' election in November 2008, took over the building, ripping off the rancho roof, redoing the structure completely. Hopefully the new Disco will be ready to operate end of June 2008.

Rumors 3

Male - Stripping - Event is postponed until July 2008, because one of the organizers had to leave the country to tend to a sick family member.

Rumors 4

"The road from the Dive Shop to Bambu Beach will be fixed in four days" said the Becko-driver, while ripping out the street. This was five days ago. The bumpy road turned into a dirt road. Creative Parking is now available.
